SUBJECT Dam Safety Regs.

I had a general discussion with Mr. Lowe regarding dam safety regs.

He indicated that all dams with a height in excess of 6 feet must be designed in accordance with TWC rules. However, approval of the design is not required unless the capacity of the reservoir exceeds 200 acre-feet. A reservoir that exceeds 200 acre-feet requires a water use permit, and in the course of the permit review the design, particularly of the spillway, will be reviewed.
